The Expedition That Forced the
1776 British Evacuation of Boston

Tuesday,
April 8,
6:30 p.m.

Long-time Brighton resident Mike O'Hara will present an overview of the courageous and seemingly impossible expedition of Colonel Henry Knox that transported the Fort Ticonderoga cannons to Dorchester Heights in the winter of 1775-76, forcing the British army to evacuate Boston on March 17, 1776.

[Due to unforeseen circumstances, the "When & Where in Boston" lecture by Jim Vrabel was canceled.]
